Finance

Please note that applicants should ensure that the budget that they draw up is accurately and realistically costed, and if the funds requested are awarded that these will be sufficient to enable the plan of research to be undertaken successfully. An applicant's chances of success are not enhanced if he or she requests a smaller rather than a larger sum of money.

Research expenses: Eligible costs are typically travel (economy fares or similar) and subsistence away from home, employment of a research assistant or secretary, photographic costs, photocopies and consumables. Figures budgeted for support staff (e.g. secretaries, technicians) should include estimates of nationally agreed revisions as well as normal increments. For UK or overseas subsistence (including accommodation) a maximum rate of £200 per day may be used. For visits over 21 days it is expected that the daily rate used will be lower than the maximum. Please provide a justification for the rate used to calculate your budget for all subsistence allowances.

The Trust normally expects applicants to be capable of basic secretarial, typing and word-processing tasks, and hence a request for secretarial/clerical assistance requires explicit justification for the level and type of support requested. Requests for research assistance also require details of how this will be used, why it is necessary and reasons for the level and type of support requested.

Please ensure that the justification provided for each budget entry shows clearly how the total requested has been calculated.

Please ensure that applications do not include any of the following ineligible costs:

- Core funding or overheads for institutions. Note that the Trust does not make awards on a full economic costing basis. Please note, however, that a proportion of overheads may be recovered through the Charity Research Support Fund (CRSF). This is distributed as part of the block grant to universities from the relevant UK funding council.

- Individual items of equipment over £1,000.
- Sites, buildings or other capital expenditure.
